Training videos available on www.dupstgeorge.org

Take advantage of all training classes that are offered, whether it's through your Camp, your Company or the Museum. This is a great way to become more comfortable with serving and refresh your memory. A bit of refresher and a review of the changes in the museum will be a huge benefit to you.

If you are worried about the cash register, just review the online training the night before you serve, it's amazing how much better you will feel about making sales transactions and using the cash register.

It was obtained by George Forsythe by trading with the Indians in Rabbit Valley, Wayne County, in the vicinity of Loa, Utah in 1870. At his death it went to his daughter, Sarah Isabelle Forsythe Gardner. At her death it went to Cannon "Pete" Gardner.

To use the Chairlift is very easy. There are instructions on the wall both at the top of the stairs and below. There is a walker for visitors to use down stairs so they can enjoy both levels of the museum.

We do not allow food or drink inside the Museum because of potential problems. Water in sealed containers is okay. Backpacks are to left in the lobby. They are dangerous to wear in the Museum because they could knock things over. Baby stroller should also be left in the lobby.

December 2024 Artifact of the Month

“Forget me Not” Rolling Pin

673 – Room 5

These glass rolling pins were not used for baking but were a decorative house gift. They often had a wire or soft rope that tied to both ends and hung on the wall as a decoration. Glass rolling pins started being made in Bristol England in the 1790's and had a cork at one end. They would fill the hollow container with salt, cocoa, baking powder or spices to make the gift special.

This rolling pin was brought across the plains by C. P. and Elizabeth Reeves Liston in 1852; donated by Rosathia Orvilla Liston Empey.

Docent Tip of the Month: BE A WECOMING HOSTESS AND TOUR GUIDE –

Just as you warmly welcome visitors to your home, invite visitors into the museum . Ask them to sign the Guest Book, inquire where they are from and what brought them to the area and the Museum. Remember, the Parton's memories of the Museum depend in large part on the experience they have with you as a Docent. Let them know how pleased we are that they would take the time from their busy schedules to visit our Museum. Share how much you love the Museum and appreciate those who came before us to settle Washintong County. Offer to give them a tour and tell a few stories about one or two items in each room. Remember to ask them to complete the Exit Survey before they leave. Put those completed forms in the drawer under the Sign-In book.

February 2025 Artifact of the Month

Wooden Glove Stretcher

527 - Room 7

The glove stretcher worked by placing the narrow end into a glove finger and then squeezing the handle, thereby expanding the two halves of the narrow end, and stretching the glove finger wider apart. They were also useful in maintaining the overall shape of kid leather gloves, which when washed were prone to wrinkling and could turn quite stiff.

This was brought from England by Hector McQuarrie

Docent Tip of the Month: Get to Know the Artifacts

It is a good idea to become familiar with as many of the artifacts in the Museum as you can, so you can share the history of the visitors, but remember it is like eating an elephant one bite at a time. You cannot learn it all at once. There are videos on the website that tell a story about some of the artifacts. Watch them to learn a little more.

If you are new to the Museum, find one artifact in each room that you are especially drawn to, learn the story behind it and you will have something to share with guests in each room as they visit us.

We have many aids to learn about different artifacts and histories of our early pioneers. Listening to your partner is a good way to learn new information. There are also small flip books in the lobby that talk about the artifacts by room.

Docent Tip of the Month: Protecting the Collection

It is particularly important to keep the doors closed as much as possible. The temperature is set for the benefit of the collection. Keeping the doors closed prevents bugs, pests, and dust from getting in. Docents should bring a jacket or sweater if it gets too cool for them.

If an emergency occurs, help guests to the nearest door. There are evacuation maps posted in each room.

May 2025 Artifact of the Month

Rock Chisel

#976 – Room 4

This Rock Chisel is made of iron. With this simple tool and a hammer, our pioneers created beautiful buildings including the St George Temple. When you look at our historic buildings think of those men and their talents plus their strength to create them. Docent Tip of the Month: Call Your Partner Before You Serve at the Museum

Call your partner in advance about your time at the Museum. It is helpful to arrive at least 15 minutes before your shift begins. Should you not be able to serve, call your Camp Docent Leader to help find a replacement. Should you change times or dates with another camp, notify your Company Docent Leader and Kayleen Potter, Docent Director (435 632 1412). Also, it would be beneficial to review the Docent Packet prior to serving. It is available online at www.dupstgeorge.org on the Docent Information page.
